

June 22, 2011
Guesswork

I'm getting emails from people about Wanda Jackson, and how she died.

I'm going to give them to you, in synopsis form:

From the Rez:

1. Don't make a big deal out of nothing. She was a heavy drinker who was drunk at the time and ran her car off the road and into the slough. She had run it into the ditch, just the front end in the water, just the previous week. Don't make something out of nothing. I'm trying to help you.

2. Alcohol was probably involved. She blew a tire on a bad stretch of road and went into the slough. Looks like she tried to kick the window out of her car... (She was found in her car) She was on her way to Jeannie Charbonneau's for a party and never showed up.

3. She had a massive heart attack and lost control of her car and it went into the water. She was already dead.

4. She was not a heavy drinker and I never saw her drinking or around people who did. She was in good physical health and she and Jeannie Charbonneau were not friends.

I'm sure even more guesses will float in. Every single one of these is "possible" but they can't all be right. There needs to be a proper, thorough investigation of how she died. So we all know. Take away the guesswork, put in the science.

Given that she was the Administrative Assistant to the embattled Social Services Director, Kevin Dauphinais, aka "Kevin Brownshield", who just had the whistle blown on him for embezzlement, and she was in a position to know what happened, who got money they were not supposed to get, etc... her sudden departure by death is a very lucky break for Kevin Dauphinais and Kristy Whishinsky. It could just be a coincidence. It really could. But only an investigation will tell us for sure.

Anyone that thinks her death, or anyone's death out there under these circumstances, should just be blown off as no big deal, needs to rethink their own casual acceptance of any scenario told them by people who might not want certain rocks turned over.

A lot of murders have been staged out there to look like "accidents". I seem to recall that Jeannie Charbonneau seemed to be the go to person to set up the story in one particular murder... Eddie Peltier's murder, to be precise. Went with Weenie Boy, QBall and Poopsie and Bruce McKay, all stuffed into Poopsie's Blazer... with Eddie's body in the back. He'd been washed and redressed so it's not like it was a 'bad thing' or anything. Right, Jeannie?

Then, when traffic had passed, they dragged his body out and with screamin' Jeannie in the front seat, Poopsie drove over the body... they were setting up an "Hit and Run" scenario... which failed miserably.

Jeannie then walked to the police station, with Weenie Boy (Your new Chairman), and gave several false statements about 'finding his lifeless body on the road'... Jeannie is a go-to person for this sort of thing. So, her name coming into this sets off one flag for me.

Poopsie and Weenie Boy are known for carrying around big screwdrivers and puncturing people's tires that they don't like. Typically at basketball games, but sometimes at Bingo, or even in the parking lot at wherever their job is.

The Turdclan would be more than inclined to remove any perceived threat to Kevin and his position as Social Services Director. Kevin was able to get Lemon Longie, the oldest brother of the Turdclan, out of prison where he was serving time for child rape, and threatening to talk about what he knew about Eddie's murder if they didn't get him out-- fast. Kevin, as the Tribe's representative, gave a glowing report on Lemon's viability as a member of the tribe.

I can easily see one of them tampering with Wanda Jackson's vehicle, knowing she would be working late and that is a dangerous road to drive at night... Your Guess is as good as mine, right? We need an investigation so we KNOW.

Friends of Kevin

Among Kevin's pals is Galen Robertson, who went down for that horrendous rape where he and a friend or two, tied up Galen's Girlfriend's 17-yr old daughter and raped her for hours. Only Galen went to court on that. Everyone wonders why the other guys didn't go. Word is, that Galen used to build garages for people and keep an extra key for himself and let himself and a friend in when he knew there was a woman or young girl home alone. He would also crawl into windows to rape women and/or young girls. He bragged about his exploits.

Kevin has, as a requirement for the job in Social Services, that you must have sex with him. The women openly talk about him and many say he is such a bad lay that if it weren't for the job, he'd be left alone, with a towel. Most of the people treat it as a joke. I hear a lot of people tell me they have been "laughing at Kevin for a long time".

Laughing? Really? This guy is putting children in danger in order to cover up his crimes. You laugh at him? Why do you not demand his dismissal? Laughing at someone is fine, unless you allow that person to continue to hold a position that is as vital as Social Services and involves children. A guy who has, as his best friends, child rapists.

Kevin came "Down from the Hill" early in order to phone up foster families and tell them he is coming the next morning to take the children from their homes and return them to the very parents who had mistreated them to begin with.

What's the hurry Kevin? You broke your big bad spiritual contract to abruptly remove children from homes where they were safe and drop them back into the cauldrons of violence and neglect? Why? Need to close the files and destroy the paperwork? Ahhh! So that is what it is!

He has done exactly that. Taken the kids, with no warning, no time to prepare them, out of homes where they were safe and well-cared for, and thrown them, like bags of trash, into the dumps that were never fixed; parents who have had no rehab, no anger management, and who remain violent and addicted and who will, in all likelihood, hurt those kids again.

How many dead babies, violently raped, murdered, battered and abused, will it take before the Tribe stands up for them and protects them?

One woman who stood up for them, Betty Jo Krenz, had to stand alone. She was fired and left on her own. Where the hell are all you Good People? Where are the voices that stand up and support her? Do you think your silence makes you safe? Is your safety more important than the protection of those children?

Is this the stuff the Tribe is made of? Cowards who laugh at those who are hurting children and setting them up to be raped and murdered? Is this really who you all are? Where are your voices?

Where is your outrage? Where is your anger?

I remember a lot of yelling and screaming and spit flying around not so long ago over the nickname of the UND "Fighting Sioux". Wow, it was really important to stand up and be counted then, wasn't it? But not for the children? Not for the courageous woman who stood up to reveal the wrongs and the dangers?

Maybe, if we made the kids into tiny mascots for some college, you might think about it enough to get really involved, speak out, make signs, protest, speak up. Maybe.

You know where to find me.

~Cat