

January 2, 2012 Acceleration

The chaos caused by voting in a murderer as your chairman, has been accelerated. Word comes that one after another bizarre action by the Tribal Council, each more egregious than the previous, is enabling the Turdclan and their pals to rob the tribe at a pace unimagined even by the predecessors, who stole millions, and who ran up debt and bad credit in the names of Tribal Members who had no idea, some still have no idea, that their identities have been used to secure loans, credit cards, that were then defaulted on.

Earlier we learned that after Kevin quit his job and was gone for a few weeks, he came back and received 'back pay and expenses' for the time when, technically and legally, he was not employed.

Then Justin, who lost his position after being indicted on Federal Charges in the LIHEP Scandal, was voted by the Tribal Council, illegally (not that it matters) to be not only reinstated, but to also receive back pay and expenses!

...And then Joel changed his vote, and then they voted again, and then he received the money and then he received paid leave... it just goes on and on...

And then, James Yankton, Jr., who was fired for failing a drug test, has now received HIS 'back pay' for breaking the law, and expenses, totally over $80K. No one blinks an eye.

Yes, it was a great Christmas for the murderers and lesser thieves who are running the place. How was yours? Were you cold? Were your children hungry? Were you able to get them anything? Imagine what you could do if you got paid for work you never did, from a job which you were fired from for breaking the law?

Now, Back To Head Start

Becky Larson was on holiday when the Finance Dept cut the checks for the employees. They cut 2 checks for them because the Finance Dept will be on holiday and they didn't want anyone to miss a check. (Especially those who get back pay?) and Head Start was in that cluster.

Jane Liska, who has no skills and cannot even use a computer, had self-appointed herself to go and pick up all the checks for all the employees that work at Head Start. Becky had failed to make arrangements to have anyone designated as 'Check picker upper' I suppose.

Jane also, being nosy, wanted to get her hands on everyone's checks because she wanted to see how much everyone made.

But, to Jane's surprise, Patricia Longie, the daughter of Marcella Knutson (sister of the whackadoodle whom we covered in the previous blog) had already appointed herself to go and pick up everyone's checks.

And for the same reasons, I am certain of it.

And, the Finance Department, which has absolutely NO direction from above, just handed them over to her! They should never have been handed over to ANYONE except the person to whom each check was made out. But, hey, money is just so much toilet paper out there to those that run the place, right?

So, Jane and Patricia get into it. Patricia, whose mother is one of the bullies out there, texts her mommy to come and help her fight Jane (who is in her 60's btw)... and Marcella (who is a teacher at Head Start) scurries right over to the Finance Department to make it a brawl... and brings her husband, Pete Longie.

The question becomes: How many Knutson-Longies does it take to overpower a 60 something older woman?

The police were called to break up the brawl. Which then carried over into Becky Larson's office.

Yup, the children at Head Start get to see every kind of unprofessional behavior, in fact, the worst behaviors by their teachers and staff, courtesy this time of Marcella Knutson, Jane Liska, Patricia Longie and Pete Longie. I don't know who else was involved. Not that it matters.

Do you wonder why programs like Head Start are failing? Why would any of these people be allowed in those doors, ever, under any circumstances, much less as teacher, or whatever other position they inhabit?

How much of an open air insane asylum does this have to become before the people protest? How much more of this rabid behavior is going to be tolerated?

And, when Head Start crashes and burns, where will these good friends of Wanda White-Trottier and Weenie Boy plant themselves? And how much damage will they do there and then? I guess we have to wait, but I suspect we don't have to wait long.

Those of you who maintain friendships with Joel Redfoxes family, the Turdclan, and the rest of the bad actors in this circus, you are the ones riding the beast with encouragement, hoping to get something for yourself.

You are the ones making this possible. If this behavior was not profitable to so many of you, if it were not tolerated, if they were shunned, the tribe would never be in this position in the first place.

Those who do nothing, say nothing, are not innocent. They are the silence that Evil relies on to thrive in our midst.

Who suffers? The Children.

We are in the Seventh Generation. This is the time of the awakening and of language coming back, and the Old Ones returning in the dreams and actions of the children... and what have you all done to the children?

You want someone to save you? Look in the mirror. Find a way. Unite and come together for the common good or no one will survive and nothing will be left of what you think you are today.

Huge things are coming. They can be great and good or more awful and horrible than anything that has come before. It depends on what you have prepared for the Seventh Generation. It depends on how much you have done to make it safe for the children out there.

If it is not safe for them, for the most helpless and the least able, it is not safe for any of us.

Happy New Year.

You know where to find me
